

Freelance Authors (CISI workbooks and elearning material)

We are always looking for experienced and knowledgeable freelance authors to help us develop our growing range of workbooks and study material. We would expect you to have experience in the financial sector and ideally, have published work on your area of specialism.

Role requirements:

Authors will be requested to support the CISI in the following ways:

- Update a workbook in line with the new syllabus
- Ensure that the syllabus is covered (relating to new/altered syllabus sections/learning objectives)
- Amend the material to reflect new industry changes
- To address workbook review comments where necessary
- To work to our production timelines

Should you be able to take part, the CISI would like to request a level of commitment in taking this workbook forward. These are:

- ✓ To attend syllabus panel meetings
- ✓ To be familiar with the CISI examination process in the development of the workbook
- ✓ To be prepared to have your name, role and company named in CISI material relating to the governance of our workbooks
- ✓ To be committed to the development of the workbook for at least one year, when the roles will be reviewed

For further information and details of fees and timelines please contact us:

Debra Wilson
Head of Learning Resources, CISI
debra.wilson@cisi.org